Principal's Message

"Education is not the learning of facts, but the training of the mind to think"

- Albert Einstein

St Ann's College of Education with its glorious history of 77 years is marching ahead with a mission of preparing teachers for modern society with personal, academic, research and professional excellence. Being a premiere institute of teacher education, St Ann's, true to its motto "Lighted to Light" has been a catalyst in the field of Education. Teacher trainees moving out of this institution have always been a source of inspiration to many young minds. They have held the torch of their Alma Mater high by being truly empowered to build up precious human resources for the society.

The New Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the uncertainties of Covid-19 have challenged the educational sector to innovate new pedagogic techniques so as to keep afloat the thinking processes of young minds. St Ann's has always been a platform for teacher trainees to grow and flourish academically and personally. While it continues to excel, it encourages innovations to keep pace with the changing world.

ANN AURA, the annual college magazine of St Ann's College of Education, is the manifestation of thought processes of our teacher trainees. It provides them with an opportunity to unfurl the creative and imaginative potentials. This issue of the College Magazine provides a glimpse of the vivid ideas and the ability to weave together with articles, poems, experiences and expressions of integral growth of our students. I congratulate Dr Sr Dorothy D'Souza A.C., the Editor of this magazine for her sustained efforts to bring forth this issue of the Magazine. I owe my thanks to all the members of the faculty and the editorial team for their coordinated endeavours.

I congratulate and deeply appreciate our teacher trainees for contributing articles to the College Magazine. May their journey of becoming great and inspiring teachers be blessed abundantly. Let us continue to excel for a change in the society with our revolutionary ideas and thoughts.

Sr Zeena Pereira A.C.

Editor's Message

'We write to taste life twice, in the moment and in retrospect'

- Anais Nin

When the little creative minds are pricked and praised at the right time, these will erupt like a volcano from where flows the wonderful literary work. Each individual is an entity of immense potential and creativity which requires proper exploration and channelization. Teacher-Educators and Teacher-trainees have a lot of potential within them and the College Magazine provides a wonderful platform to showcase their talent as creative writers and to express themselves into a conglomeration. Language with its rich diversity reveals the ingenuity and flexibility of the human mind.

'Ann Aura' gives the young and talented writers an opportunity to feel intently, observe keenly, think deeply and thereby express themselves in a distinct way. It channelizes the budding talented writers and helps in encouraging their writing skills by appraisal which inspires and motivates them to read and write much more, thus improving their creative and imaginary writings. This in turn helps them in the future career as teachers to encourage learners into creative and critical writers.

St. Ann's College of Education (Autonomous), with great positive energy moulds the vibrant, eminent and young teacher-educators and student-teachers, with creative and innovative minds with cherishable concepts and sound practical skills to lead an enriched life as persons and professionals (teachers). 'Ann Aura' is one such cherished work that has its roots in persuasion.

Through 'Ann Aura' the College of Education communicates its values and achievements of students to the external world, besides a great educative value. It seeks to capture and reflect the manifold happenings on the campus. 'Ann Aura' gives a deep insight of our teacher-education and teacher training programme. 'Ann Aura' fondly remembers and praises God for the long thirty years of dedicated service of the former Principal Dr Sister Clare A.C. and welcomes the new Principal Sister Zeena Pereira A.C. It also records Ph. D degree awarded to eighteen research scholars, which is a matter of great pride to our research centre and to the research supervisors.

I express my considerable appreciation to our teacher-educators and student-teachers who have contributed interms of articles, poems, reminiscence and life's experience. These foster human values and will serve as a guide to the readers to serve the society responsibly in keeping with the vision and mission of our college.

It is indeed a matter of great pride and joy to present to the readers our College Magazine 'Ann Aura', which is a specimen of creativity, divergent thinking, critical thinking and analysing.

Dr Sr Dorothy D'Souza A.C.
